WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

With new European peace arrangements, particularly a new partnership with Western Germany, as the main goal of their talks, the Foreign Ministers of the United States, Britain and France will inaugurate a series of meetings in Washington today. The three leaders, all of whom took part in the San Francisco conference on the Japanese peace treaty, were due in the capital last night from California aboard Secretary of State Acheson's plane.President Truman, who also returned to Washington, revealed that he had telephoned from his home in Independence, Mo., to Mr. Acheson in San Francisco, congratulating the Secretary of State for his conduct of the San Francisco conference.The Japanese people generally greeted the signing of the peace treaty with gratitude.The enemy maintained silence regarding a resumption of the suspended truce talks in Kaesong but continued to hurl new and old charges of violations of the Kaeson neutral zone by United Nations troops and planes.On the battlefield the only action of any size took place west of Yonchon, where tank-supported Allied forces advanced two to three miles along a twelve-mile front.
Twenty-eight United States jetstangled with seventy of the enemy, downing two of them.The third warning in recent weeks to Marshal Tito by a high official of the Soviet Union was voiced by Marshal Sokolovsky, Soviet Vice-Minister for War, who declared in Sofia that the life of the present Yugoslav regime was nearing its end.Marshal Papagos appeared to be winning the Greek Parliamentary elections with a sufficient margin to enable him to form a new government.In Iran enough opposition Deputies stayed away to prevent Premier Mossadegh from seeking a vote of confidence in the Majlis. The Premier nevertheless announced that he would present London with an aide memoire warning the British that unless the oil negotiations were resumed within a fortnight British technicians would be expelled from the country.Chairman George of the Senate Finance Committee indicated that because of certain controversial issues the new tax increase bill might not be ready for Senate debate before next Monday. This delay dimmed hope for adjournment of Congress by October 1st. The Senate will start today debate on the $61,- 000,000 armed service bill and is expected to approve the measure by tomorrow night.

THE WAR

EIGHTH U. S. ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, KOREA — Swarms of Communist jet fighters challenged American planes over North Korea for the second day today. Two Russian-type MIG-15 jets were reported damaged in a 30-minute dogfight between 80 enemy planes and 30
American sabre jets. There were no Allied losses. The tally of enemy jets hit in two days rose to a total of five. The combat, described by one Allied pilot as "the most ferocious"
ever staged in Korea, took place between Anju and Pyongyang and ranged up to 34,000 feet in altitude.

RCA Victor Cuts Prices!

We thought these newly reduced prices so sensational that we bought a whole truckload, 50 Sets. . . All that RCA Victor distributor in Philadelphia would allot us --- or we would have bought more.

As this ad is being written by me (Leon Plavin), Friday afternoon, 1 P. M. for Monday publication in the Courier, we have already sold 6 of these RCA sets at the special prices — to people who saw this sale announcement in this week's New York and Trenton papers.

RCA VICTOR announces these price reductions only as a temporary measure to move stock! It appears that prices will go back to regular price as soon as this movement is achieved.

Blessed Mother Wedding Ceremony Occurs Saturday

A Blessed Mother ceremony, with the bride gowned in white, and her attendants in blue, took place at two o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. Ann's R. C. Church. The two taking the vows uniting them in marriage were Miss Ann Marie Greco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Greco, 929 Beaver street, and Mr. Harry L. Scheid, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Scheid, of Edington, N. J.

As Mrs. James DiNunzio, Langhorne, sang "The Rosary," Mrs. Louis V. Frease, Mill street, presided at the organ console.

For her wedding day the bride selected a gown of white Chantilly lace over nylon net and satin. The gown was floor length, with two ruffles of net appearing below the lace of the gown. It had an illusion neckline, with lace rosettes outlining the neck. Her three-quarter length, finger-tip veil of net was attached to a crown of net intertwined with seed pearls.

The attendants wore gowns of blue nylon net over taffeta, these having apron fronts with scatter flowers. Their net embroidered hats had nose veils. The young women were: Miss Clementine Greco, Beaver street, bridesmaid; Miss Josephine Stallone, Beaver street, maid of honor; Miss Jacqueline Connolly, Jefferson avenue, and Miss Katherine Moore, Croydon, bridesmaids. Miss Clementine Greco is a sister of the bride.

Mr. John Patti, Philadelphia, served Mr. Scheid as best man; and the ushers were Messrs. Joseph Basil, Logan street, and Daniel Greco, Jr., Beaver street, a brother of the bride.

Covers were placed for 500 guests in Goodwill Fire Co. station, at seven o'clock in the evening.

For a honeymoon trip to Miami, Fla., the bride wore gray flannel suit, navy blue accessories, and a white orchid. The couple will reside on Newport road, West Bristol.

For attendance at the wedding, Mrs. Greco, mother of the bride, was attired in a black dress, and burnt orange accessories; while Mrs. Scheid, the bridegroom's mother, chose a black satin suit, pink and black accessories. Each wore an orchid corsage.

The bride graduated from J. W. Hallahan Catholic Girls high school, Philadelphia.

Readin', Ritin', 'Rithmetic

Unquestionably, the need for education is greater today than ever before. And as any parent knows, education costs more, too! Textbooks, notebooks, pencils, paper...these and other school supplies cost up to twice what they used to.

But don't blame the people who make these items. Don't blame the schools. Blame the dollar! It buys less for everybody.

The dollar is squeezing the telephone business harder than ever. Costs of supplies and equipment keep going up, and up and up. Take an office typewriter, for example. The same typewriter we used to buy for $103 now costs $163...more than half again as much.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value.

Even if it should cost more, your telephone service, in comparison with other things, would still be a big, big bargain.

Auto Boys Team Given A Stinging Defeat

The United States Army and United States Air Force Recruiting Softball team from Phila. handed Auto Boys of the Bristol League one of its worst defeats of the season Friday by drubbing them 10 to 2 on Memorial Field. Auto Boys got off to an early lead by way of two misfires on the part of the first Sgt. Jim Major of the Recruiters, but that lead was quickly overtaken by some very timely hitting and good base running on the part of the Recruiters, and Sgt. Jim McAllister, pitching excellent ball for the remainder of the game, blanked Auto Boys for the remaining five innings, being in trouble only in the fifth when a walk, followed by a single and another walk loaded the bases with none out, then he forced the next two hitters to pop to the first baseman and the next man grounded to third baseman Jim McIlvain of the Recruiters who made a fine field and threw to first to kill the threat.

Score by Innings:

Auto Boys	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	6
Retrs.	0	1	3	0	3	3	0	10	7

The report read in part: "All bridges and tunnels between Pennsylvania, New York, and Delaware are toll free to us through their legislatures, but we cannot get free passage over the Delaware River bridge (Burlington-Bristol), and if control is given over other bridges, we will have to pay there also." It was added that "Pennsylvania is the only eastern state where we are forced to pay toll."

The squad report from Jan. 1st to August 31st follows: Calls answered, 814; sick and injured transported, 865; road accident calls, 92; industrial accidents, 96; blood donation, 390 pints; miles travelled (three ambulances), 31,940; miles travelled, mobile unit, 610; man hours of duty (volunteer services), 12,560; drowning calls, 18; suicide calls, 11; gas asphyxiation calls, 6; oxygen administration calls, 43; oxygen tent calls, 26; fire calls for rescue truck, 17.

Mr. Stackhouse also gave information that a directory is being published through the efforts of the association and the county commissioners. This, he said, will list fire and rescue units, their equipment, officials, etc., and will be distributed in all communities in the county, so that information will be readily available in case of emergency.

The firemen also discussed further the matter of the bridge over the Pennsylvania Railroad at Eddington, which is still out of service due to being burned a few years ago. They stated that firemen might be forced to drive 2½ miles to a fire within a stone's throw of the fire station.

The members gave some time to discussion of new housing developments in the county, and all companies were urged to keep alert until such time as these communities have fire companies organized.

It was stated that the protection from fire at Fairless Village is inadequate at present, but that standards are planned.

Number of paid-up companies was given at 55; and six new members were received. Shelley Fire Co. was listed as a new one.

No invitation was issued for December meeting.

Discussion took place regarding two fires at gasoline pumps, one in Pendel and one in Sellersville, the blazes occurring just as customers were leaving the pumps.

Fire prevention week was listed as October 7th-13th. Raymond Strunk, Quakertown, reported on the manner in which Quakertown will observe the week, with "open house" each night so residents might see the fire-fighting equipment. The company there will be host each night to a different fire company. A big demonstration is planned for Oct. 10th on the railroad lot in that community. Inspection of all public buildings will take place during the week, this to include schools, churches, hospital, etc., to make sure there are no fire hazards.

Leonard Roberts, Trevose, told of the Keystone Fire Chiefs Association convention to be held at Royersford November 17th, this being the 50th anniversary. Five Bucks County men have been members 25 years, he added.

It was emphasized that aid raid signals should be entirely different from fire signals to prevent confusion.

Auxiliary members met in the fire station, and later both groups were served refreshments there.
